1. FREE TIME AT OUR SCHOOL – A SURVEY Last month, the school magazine asked 120 eighth graders about their free time. The results were interesting. Most students are crazy about video games, but only a few play them every day. Both girls and boys enjoy chatting online with their friends, and they usually spend about two hours a day on their phones. Surprisingly, folk music is more popular than we expected: many students are fond of playing the bağlama, and twelve of them take lessons. Shopping is not very popular; a lot of students can’t stand crowded shopping malls. Instead, they prefer outdoor activities like skateboarding to going shopping. Some students say they would rather have a sleepover at a friend’s house than go to a concert. Pocket money is a hot topic, too: most teenagers spend it on snacks and books.
