> Our Class Survey: Mornings in 5-E (Antalya)
> In our survey, twenty-eight students in 5-E answer the question “What time do you …?” Here are the results. Most students wake up at half past six or at seven o’clock. Only three students wake up after half past seven, because they live next to the school. Eighteen students have breakfast with their families. Ten students eat a quick sandwich on the school bus or in the canteen. Most students do their homework at five o’clock, after a short rest. Bedtime is interesting: many students go to bed at half past nine, but some go to bed at ten o’clock or later! Our teacher says, “Sleep is important. Ten hours is perfect for children.”

1. How many students are in the survey?

2. Why do three students wake up after half past seven?

3. Where do ten students eat breakfast?

4. What does the teacher say about sleep?
