A Reading: The rowing team

5 × 4 = 20 puan

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları kısaca cevaplayın.)

Taha lives in Isparta, near beautiful Lake Eğirdir. He is a member of the town's rowing club. In summer, the team trains on the lake five mornings a week, from six to eight o'clock. In winter, the lake is too cold and windy, so they train indoors on rowing machines.

Rowing is a team sport. There are four people in Taha's boat, and they must move together. "If one person is slow, the whole boat is slow," says Taha. Their coach is strict: nobody can be late for training. Last September, the team took part in a race in Adana and finished third. Taha was proud, but he wants to win a gold medal next year.

D Reading: The turtles of İztuzu

5 × 4 = 20 puan

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları kısaca cevaplayın.)

> İztuzu Beach in Dalyan is a special place for loggerhead sea turtles. Every summer, female turtles come to the beach at night and lay their eggs in the sand. About two months later, the baby turtles come out and run to the sea.
> In the past, this beach was in danger. In the 1980s, some people wanted to build a big hotel there. Many people were afraid, because the turtles couldn't survive with the lights and the noise of a hotel. A British woman, June Haimoff, and many local people protested, and the government protected the beach.
> Today, visitors can swim at İztuzu during the day, but the beach closes at night, because the turtles need a quiet and dark habitat. People shouldn't leave rubbish on the sand, and they shouldn't touch the nests.

1. When do the female turtles come to the beach?

2. When do the baby turtles come out?

3. Why were people afraid in the 1980s?

4. Why does the beach close at night?

5. Write one thing visitors shouldn’t do.
