A Reading: Children’s Day in Japan

5 × 4 = 20 puan

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları kısaca cevaplayın.)

> My pen friend Yuki lives in Kyoto, Japan. Last week she sent me an e-mail about Children’s Day in Japan. It is on 5 May every year. Before the holiday, families decorate their houses with colourful fish-shaped flags called “koinobori”. These flags show carp fish. Japanese people believe carp are strong and brave, because they can swim against the river.
> Families hang one flag for each child. On the day, children eat special rice cakes, and families go to parks for picnics. Yuki says it is like our 23 April, but there aren’t any school shows.

1. When is Children’s Day in Japan?

2. What are “koinobori”?

.....

3. Why do Japanese people think carp are strong and brave?

.....

4. How many flags does a family hang?

B Reading: New trees for the hills

5 × 4 = 20 puan

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları kısaca cevaplayın.)

Two summers ago, a big forest fire burned many trees near our village in Muğla. Animals lost their habitats, and the hills looked black and empty.
In November, on National Tree Planting Day, more than three hundred volunteers came to the village to take action. Students, teachers, farmers and firefighters planted pine and oak saplings together. A forest engineer explained, “Forests are important because they produce oxygen and keep the soil in its place. They are also home to thousands of animals.”
The volunteers also learned how to prevent fires. People mustn’t leave glass bottles or rubbish in forests, and they mustn’t light barbecues in dry weather.

1. What happened near the village two summers ago?

2. How many volunteers came to the village?

3. Which trees did they plant?

.....

4. Write one reason why forests are important.

.....

5. Write one thing people mustn’t do in forests.

C Writing: How to plant a tree

1 × 20 = 20 puan

Read the notes and describe the process. (Notları okuyun ve süreci anlatın.)

choose a sunny place – dig a deep hole put the sapling in the hole cover the roots with soil – press it water the sapling
put a stick next to it (wind)

1. Look at the notes. Describe how to plant a sapling. Use First, Then, Next, After that and Finally. (5–6 sentences)

D Reading: Two giants

5 × 4 = 20 puan

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları kısaca cevaplayın.)

> Jupiter and Saturn are the two biggest planets in our solar system. They are gas giants, so they don’t have a hard surface like Earth.
> Jupiter is the largest planet. It is more than eleven times wider than Earth. It has a famous “Great Red Spot”, which is a huge storm. This storm is bigger than our whole planet!
> Saturn is smaller than Jupiter, but it is still enormous. It is famous for its beautiful rings. The rings are made of ice and rock. Saturn is also very light for its size: in a giant bathtub, it could float on water! Both planets have many moons. Saturn’s biggest moon, Titan, has a thick atmosphere.

1. Why don’t Jupiter and Saturn have a hard surface?
2. How much wider than Earth is Jupiter?
3. What is the Great Red Spot?
4. What are Saturn’s rings made of?
5. Which moon has a thick atmosphere?

E Writing: A fact file about Venus

1 × 20 = 20 puan

Read the notes and write a short description. (Notları okuyun ve kısa bir tanım yazın.)

VENUS
position: 2nd planet from the Sun
size: almost the same as Earth temperature: about 465 °C – the hottest planet atmosphere: thick, cloudy – traps the heat
other facts: turns very slowly; no moons

1. Use the notes and write a short description of Venus. Use the present simple and at least one comparison. (5–6 sentences)
