Welcome to Amasya! If you are new here, this short guide will help you. The town hall is in the main square, next to the clock tower. People go there to pay their water bills and get information about town events. Across from the town hall, there is a big library. You can borrow up to three books for two weeks, but you can’t eat or drink inside.
The museum is between the post office and the bank. It has an exhibition of old coins and a beautiful stone sculpture. The museum opens at nine and closes at five, and it is closed on Mondays. If you need to send a parcel, the post office is the right place. The hospital is behind the train station, and the fire station is near the river.
