Ada likes building things. One day, she makes a robot. It has got a square head and two round eyes. It has got a triangle nose and a rectangle body. Its arms are long and its legs are short. She calls it Bip.

“Hello, Bip!” Bip opens his eyes. “Beep! Hello! I am a shape robot. I love shapes!”

Bip looks around the room. “The window is a square. The clock is a circle. The pizza slice is a triangle! The door is a rectangle! Beep beep!” Bip is very happy.

Then Bip looks at Ada. “What shape are you?” Ada laughs. “I'm not a shape! I'm a girl!” Bip thinks and thinks. Then he draws a big heart. “This is my favourite shape. It is you and me, friends!”
