> Snow leopards live high in the mountains of Central Asia, in countries like Mongolia, China and Nepal. Their home is cold, rocky and windy, but these big cats are perfect for it. They have thick, grey fur with black spots, so they are hard to see on the rocks. Their large paws work like snowshoes. Their tail is very long, and they wrap it around their body to keep warm when they sleep. Snow leopards are excellent hunters. They can jump very far and catch wild goats and sheep. Unlike lions, they can't roar. Today, there are only a few thousand snow leopards in the wild. People hunt them for their beautiful fur, and their habitat is getting smaller. We must protect them.
