> Most teenagers use the internet every day. They chat with friends, do homework, watch videos and play games. The internet is useful, but you should be careful. First of all, never share your password with anyone, even your best friend. Use strong passwords with letters, numbers and symbols. Secondly, think before you post a photo. Once something is online, it can stay there forever. Thirdly, don’t accept friend requests from strangers. People online are not always who they say they are. Also, if someone is unkind to you online, don’t reply. Take a screenshot and tell an adult you trust. Finally, don’t spend too much time in front of a screen. Go outside, do sports and meet your friends face to face.
