D Learning smarter, not harder

Read the text and answer the questions. (Metni okuyun ve soruları cevaplayın.)

> Many students spend hours reading the same pages again and again, but research shows this is not the best way to learn. A better method is “active recall”: close your book, try to remember what you have learned, and then check your answers. Another useful technique is “spaced practice”. Instead of studying a topic for five hours on one day, study it for one hour on five different days. Your brain remembers information better when you return to it several times. Finally, teach what you have learned to a friend or family member. If you can explain it clearly, you really understand it.

1. What is the problem with reading the same pages again and again?

   a) It takes very little time. b) It is not very effective.

   c) It is too difficult. d) It is boring for teachers.

2. What is “active recall”?

   a) Studying with friends. b) Copying the text again.

   c) Remembering without looking, then checking. d) Reading aloud.

3. “Spaced practice” means ____.

a) studying a topic several times on different days

b) studying for many hours on one day

c) taking long holidays

d) studying in different places

4. According to the text, how can you test your understanding?

a) By explaining it to someone.

b) By sleeping more.

c) By reading faster.

d) By using a dictionary.

E Study tips
